DETAILED ACTION

1. Claims 10-14 are presented for examination.
2. It is noted that although the present application does contain line numbers in the specification and claims, the line numbers in the claims do not correspond to the preferred format. The preferred format is to number each line of every claim, with each claim beginning with line 1. For ease of reference by both the Examiner and Applicant all future correspondence should include the recommended line numbering.

Claim Rejections – 35 USC 112

3. Claims 10-12 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention.
 - a. Claim language in the following claims is not clearly understood:
 - i. As per claim 10, lines 4-5, it is uncertain if “the user’s terminal equipment” refers to a local user’s terminal equipment in lines 2-3; Lines 6-8, it is unclear if the step of determining depends on the parameters contained in the resource reservation protocol message [i.e. the determination refers to the steps of determining?].

ii. As per claim 12, lines 4-5, it is not clearly understood if “the user’s terminal equipment” refers to the local user’s terminal equipment in claim 10, lines 2-3.

Claim Rejections – 35 USC 102

4. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(e) the invention was described in a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention thereof by the applicant for patent, or on an international application by another who has fulfilled the requirements of paragraphs (1), (2), and (4) of section 371(c) of this title before the invention thereof by the applicant for patent.

5. The changes made to 35 U.S.C. 102(e) by the American Inventors Protection Act of 1999 (AIPA) and the Intellectual Property and High Technology Technical Amendments Act of 2002 do not apply when the reference is a U.S. patent resulting directly or indirectly from an international application filed before November 29, 2000. Therefore, the prior art date of the reference is determined under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) prior to the amendment by the AIPA (pre-AIPA 35 U.S.C. 102(e)).

6. Claims 10-12 and 14 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being anticipated by Sen et al, U.S. Patent 6,708,034 (hereinafter Sen).

7. As per claim 10, Sen taught the invention as claimed for providing support for internet protocol signaling, wherein the mobile terminal is connected to a local user's terminal equipment and to a radio network (col. 2, lines 48-52), the method comprising the steps of:

terminating a resource reservation protocol message sent from the user's terminal equipment (col. 5, lines 1-11);

determining whether to create a new packet data protocol context or to modify an existing packet data protocol context, the determination based on parameters contained in the resource reservation protocol message (col. 7, lines 6-7; col. 5, lines 31-66); and sending a request to create or modify the packet data protocol context through the radio network (col. 5, lines 67-col. 6, lines 5).

8. As per claim 11, Sen taught the invention as claimed in claim 10 above. Sen further taught comprising the steps of:

receiving a response to the request from the radio network (col. 6, lines 6-7); generating a resource reservation protocol message based on the contents of the response (col. 6, lines 8-27); and sending the resource reservation protocol message to the local user's terminal equipment (col. 6, lines 8-27).

9. As per claim 12, Sen taught the invention as claimed in claim 10 above. Sen further taught comprising the steps of:

receiving a trigger that initiates the generation of a resource reservation protocol path message (col. 4, lines 29-34); and sending the resource reservation protocol path message to the user's terminal equipment (col. 4, lines 50-52).

10. As per claim 14, Sen taught the invention as claimed comprising:
a first interface to a local user's terminal equipment (col. 3, lines 10-15, 29-31);
a second interface to a radio network (col. 2, lines 2-4; col. 3, lines 16-21, 31-33);
a terminating unit for terminating resource reservation protocol (col. 5, lines 1-11); and a translation unit for transforming resource reservation protocol message into a packet data protocol message and vice versa (col. 4, lines 22-27; col. 7, lines 6-7).

Claim Rejections – 35 USC 103

11. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

12. Claim 13 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Sen in view of Puuskari, U.S. Patent 6,728,208 (hereinafter Puuskari).

13. As per claim 13, Sen taught the invention as claimed for a gateway general packet radio service support node comprising the steps of:

transforming, by the gateway general packet radio service support node, quality of service related signaling according to an internet protocol into signaling according a resource reservation protocol, and vice versa (col. 5, lines 31-49).

14. Sen did not teach including Internet protocol quality of service information in packet data protocol context. Puuskari taught including internet protocol quality of service information in packet data protocol context (col. 5, lines 17-23; col. 10, lines 16-24).

15. It would have been obvious to one having ordinary skill in the art at the time of the invention was made to combine the teachings of Sen and Puuskari because Puuskari's method of including internet protocol quality of service information in packet data protocol context would increase the reliability of Sen's system by guaranteeing that packets not conforming to the packet data protocol level quality of service contract are discarded first if needed (col. 5, lines 32-34).
